

No-Nonsense Conservative Leadership

"Conservatives universally advocate a return to limited government, for as Ronald Reagan used to say, a government that can give you everything you want can also take away everything you have."

Justin "J.R." Riggins, a long-time Casper resident, announces his Wyoming House District 59 campaign.

J.R. has been an active member of the Natrona County Republican Party since 2008. As an elected precinct committeeman, NCGOP Executive Committee Member-at-large, and Natrona County GOP State Committeeman, J.R. worked alongside grassroots activists to create the super-majority the party enjoys today.

Like so many Wyomingites, J.R. credits Wyoming's energy industry with providing a South Dakota high school graduate - with a few semesters of college - the opportunity to be successful through hard work and perseverance. It's crucial to J.R. that our next generation have that same opportunity.

Wyoming's economy isn't his only concern - so is its culture. Wyoming advertises rugged individualism, self-reliance, and the Cowboy way. Those are characteristics worth conserving, but Wyoming's "red state" status is in jeopardy with our increasing dependency on Federal tax dollars and the strings attached to them.

J.R. recognizes that culture is upstream of policy. In an atmosphere where progressive cultural revolution is threatening every aspect of Western society, we may wake up soon and find "The World Needs More Cowboys" is banned hate speech.

J.R. invites you to visit www.jrforhouse.com to learn more about his campaign and the future of Wyoming.
